About Rohingya Human Rights Initiative

The Rohingya Human Rights Initiative (ROHRIngya) is an organization formed by Rohingya activists in India. It was registered at the Government of India Trust registration office on the 1st January 2017 (registration no. 20 SR IIB).

ROHRIngya works to highlight violations of human rights of the Rohingya, the most persecuted community in the world, and other minorities, and to alleviate their suffering in India.

ROHRIngya engages with government agencies and NGOs to provide assistance to the Rohingya community in India. This includes projects for the development of the community, emergency relief to vulnerable families and advocacy for the rights of the Rohingya in India and their access to facilities. Priority programmatic areas are education, health, support to people in detention and emergency relief to vulnerable families. Activities undertaken include community mobilization and awareness raising. We are committed to help vulnerable communities, which is only possible through strong partnerships with relevant NGOs, institutions and motivated volunteers and community people.

ROHRIngya also campaigns for the rights of the Rohingya community globally through online advocacy and via publishing reports and books. Daily news updates based on information from the ground-level on the continuous persecution of the Rohingya community in Myanmar are provided to create awareness of the genocide-like conditions in the country. Besides others, we focus on translations of articles, news and updated about the Rohingya crisis from Rohingya, Burmese and Bengali languages to English or Hindi to reach national and international audience. ROHRIngya also mobilizes community members, conducts awareness sessions with locals and organizes media conferences on the developments of Rohingya situation.

Partner organization: Rohingya Literacy Program (RLP)

We have a partnership with the Rohingya Literacy Program (RLP), non-profit initiative established by a group of youth leaders from Rohingya refugees living in Delhi. This humble voluntary initiative primarily aims to empower Rohingya refugees and improve their educational, physical, cultural, and socio-economic situation and addresses their difficult living conditions. Recognizing education as the base for empowerment, the RLP focuses on educational empowerment of Rohingya refugees through awareness generation, sensitization, academic counselling guidance and admission facilitation from the primary school level to the higher educational pursuits.

The RLP started a hostel program for vulnerable children and youth in December 2017 to enable them to continue further their education. RLP also started a scholarship program for vulnerable students to encourage primary, secondary and higher education. As of December 2018, there is only one university student from the entire Rohingya community in India. The RLP aims to enable at least 20 Rohingya youth to attend each year by encouraging secondary education, providing scholarships and hostel facilities. In 2018, hostel students were supported by the following organisations: the Rehbar Foundation provided monthly grocery items; the Welfare Group assisted with transportation, hostel maintenance costs and stationery; and the Rohingya Human Rights Initiative gave a food chart for 3 months. The remaining funds for the hostel program were supported by several individuals including students, businessman, social workers etc. As a result, the facilitation of education of 15 Rohingya vulnerable secondary students was undertaken in a multidimensional way, through the provision of hostel accommodation, food, transportation, stationery and other essential requirements. A major achievement was the sponsorship of a student who appeared for board examinations in October 2018, the only student from the Rohingya community to do so.

Who are Rohingya

The Rohingya are stateless Muslim minority group who have been subjected to systematic persecution and grave human rights abuses by Myanmar authorities for decades. Over 100,000 of Rohingya live in camps for internally displaced persons in Rakhine State of Myanmar with no freedom of movement or access to food, water, sanitation, healthcare and education.

© 2019, Yu Kyung Lee (Journalist)

Escalating violence in September 2017 forced an additional 700,000 Rohingyas to flee to Bangladesh, leaving them in an extremely vulnerable state. India host 17,825 Rohingyas, who fled the intended genocide by the Myanmar government, out of which 24 % are women, 28 % men, and 48 % children. The majority of the Rohingya population in India reside in Jammu (38 %) and Telangana (34 %), followed by 9 % in Haryana, and 7 % in Delhi. Rohingya Human Rights Initiative (ROHRingya) is an organization from the community for the community. ROHRingya has been working for the communities since 2017.

Focus areas of ROHRIngya

1. Human Rights

Human rights violations of the Rohingya are our primary concern and we have provided assistance to numerous individuals who have survived genocide at the hands of military of Myanmar. We plan to grow further as a reliable institution for addressing and providing timely action to human right abuses of the Rohingya community in Myanmar, Bangladesh and India. We promote the human rights of Rohingya in India directly through various programs, spreading the awareness in the media and conferences, and indirectly by supporting partner initiatives in Bangladesh and Myanmar.

We have worked rigorously with local organizations, local authorities and legal bodies to provide legal aid for the active resolution of cases of detention, harassment, violence, child labor, abuse and forced labor. Some of our activities can be seen below:

- Monitoring on situation in human trafficking, smuggling of vulnerable Rohingya women and girls from Myanmar and Bangladesh, prevention and legal and recovery support provided to victims.
- Coordinated protection activities with UNHCR, HRLN and governmental institutions concerning suspected cases of trafficking of Rohingya women and young girls in Manipur.
- Active participation in providing post-release support to newly released Rohingya refugees from detention in Kolkata.
- Meeting with representatives of International Criminal Court of Justice (ICC) about the order to prevent the genocide, which the Rohingya remain at risk of, in Myanmar. ROHRIngya chose appx. 15 individuals who left Myanmar on 2016 onwards, who can confess and present the problems they face and can raise it to the ICC.
- Creation of lists of organizations and lawyers, who are working on detention issue.
- Gathering information and publishing reports on verified atrocities and sufferings that Rohingya individuals and communities are facing from the Myanmar military in Rakhine state, Myanmar, such report on Myanmar Army's helicopter gunship fire on Rohingya villagers.
- Meeting with Latifa Singh on the Digital Story Project of Rohingya Human Rights Initiative.

2. Education and Child Protection

The Rohingya Human Rights Initiative initiated education projects aiming for the empowerment of children and youth, providing computer literacy classes for refugee children, strengthening their language skills, thus widening their opportunities for equality and gender parity in vulnerable communities in India.

Since Rohingya refugees have undergone migration through several routes in Bangladesh and India, most community members speak Burmese, Rohingya and other languages like Bengali and Hindi. In order to bring everybody under one umbrella in the medium of education, we aim to strengthen English skills to help them in their studies and improve opportunities for future career. In the pursuit to keep them closer to their culture and language, Burmese language classes are also held.

Rohingya Human Rights Initiative works with groups of volunteer student, who offered their skills and time to contribute to success of the Education project. The benefits are on both sides, these volunteer students get valuable experience and insight into Rohingya community, which helps them to understand needs of vulnerable communities.

Khajuri Khas Education Project

ROHRIngya identified 41 students out of which 70 % are enrolled in public school and 30 % are currently out of school, aged 6 to 18. Children and youth participating in the project have received stationery and study materials related to Burmese, English and Computer classes. The location of the project is in Khajuri Khas, New Delhi, where Rohingya refugee families live in rented flats. The duration of the project is one year, beginning in March 2019.

- Meeting with “Talent Enablers Epic” volunteers on Rohingya children and their families and making awareness session for the children of the Education Centre on child abuse and gender-based violence.

Faridabad Education Project

Similarly to the Education project in Khajuri Khas, we have initiated another education project in Faridabad from November 2019 where we have identified 37 students out of which only 3 students are currently attending private school. The target group involved children and youth (age 6 – 14). The Rohingya settlement in Budhenagaon, Faridabad, Delhi NCR, India is home to 23 Rohingya families. Due to the high risk of illnesses and infection due to unsanitary settlement, children have been unable to attend the school for years. Rohingya Human Rights Initiative opened an education centre with the assistance of Anandini Fernandes and her friends and arranged to send children to school.

3. Emergency Relief

The humanitarian branch of the Rohingya Human Rights Initiative has provided proactive and timely responses to emergencies to support Rohingya refugees in India. In the year of 2019, we have distributed food and food commodities to 277 families and education and stationery kits to 46 students in Khajuri Khas and Shaheen Bagh, Delhi. In Faridabad, we have distributed food and food commodities to 122 families. We responded to crises in Delhi and Haryana where entire camps of Rohingya refugees were burnt down. Total number of 50 families in Delhi and 57 families in Haryana lost all their belonging including their UNHCR refugee cards.

Emergency relief response provided shelter, food, water, clothes, food commodities, medical care, sanitation, stationaries for school-going children and financial aid to re-establish livelihoods. We provided food, blankets and water tanks in Jammu and Faridabad, especially to fire victims and to the jobless people, disable people patient and elderly people. Out of other individual activities under emergency and relief support, ROHRingya provided food and shelter to 25 displaced refugees in cooperation with Don Bosco. Transportation provided to 25 displaced refugees for resettlement in Haryana.

We also distributed urgently required winter clothes and blankets to various locations. Study materials for school-going children and food commodities for vulnerable families from Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Delhi and Hyderabad were also distributed. Moreover, emergency relief of INR 5,000.- was provided to a displaced family to shift from Uttam Nagar to Haryana. Emergency relief distribution of essential items in Jammu (Marathi Mulla settlement), Delhi (Shaheen Bagh Rohingya settlement), Faridabad Rohingya settlements. Distribution of tarpaulin and bamboo for 10 vulnerable families in Mathura, in coordination with Salamah Trust.

ROHRIngya regularly visit poor and vulnerable Rohingya communities to observe the living conditions and their livelihood situation. Poor sanitary conditions, lack of means of livelihood, due to lack of proper documentation. Testimonies of numerous refugees reveal that possession of UNHCR refugee card is not enough to get a job. This situation was observed, for example, in Jhuggi Jhopris, Khader road, near Kalindi Kunj metro station, New Delhi, where ROHRIngya distributed material support and some clothes.

4. Support to community leadership and networking

Human rights can only be achieved through an informed and continuing demand by people for their protection. Human rights education promotes values, beliefs and attitudes that encourage all individuals to uphold their own rights and those of others. It develops an understanding of everyone's common responsibility to make human rights a reality in each community.

© 2019, Rohingya Human Rights Initiative

Human rights education constitutes an essential contribution to the long-term prevention of human rights abuses and represents an important investment in the endeavour to achieve a just society in which all human rights of all persons are valued and respected.

Rohingya community representatives from different parts of India joined “Project Voice” that took place from 8th to 12th June 2018 in New Delhi. The main topic of this workshop was human rights and capacity building of Rohingya community in India. It provided its participants valuable information and skills including conducting interviews, gathering quantitative and qualitative data, ability to analyse collected data and draw conclusions in order to prepare participants for organizing or joining development projects.

vulnerable households benefited from their premises being cleaned. Due to the high risk of illnesses and infection due to the large quantities of garbage, following activities were implemented: waste collection, treatment of stagnant water with bleach solution, cleaning of latrine pits, allocation of garbage bins in the settlement premises, conducting training for the local community on awareness on waste management, segregation, recycling and proper disposal of waste, etc.

5. Women Empowerment

The Women Empowerment Project has been developed for adolescent refugee girls, especially who are illiterate, to empower them to become agents for hope and change in the community.

This project enables vulnerable young girls to learn skills that help enables them to earn living and provide for themselves and their families. It empowers and supports them to engage with topics like human rights, women leadership and helps them to improve their basic literacy skills.

The beneficiaries of our project are invited to work as peer mobilizers with our organisations and build awareness on human rights issues, including on gender-based violence, with others in the community. Their efforts and participation in community matters creates a shift in power dynamics and endeavours to rebuild their lives in India. Project created weekly updates on women leadership and capacity building, protection of Rohingyas in Bangladesh and India.

6. Youth Empowerment, Sports and Culture

The “Rohingya Football Club India” is a project implemented by ROHRingya in partnership with LEHLEH Sport in different states of India. The project focuses on promotion of community belonging, self-esteem, social health and welfare benefits to Rohingyas residing in India through formation of Rohingya football teams in different states of India and through the organisation of football trainings and football matches.

7. Advocacy

The humanitarian crisis caused by escalating violence in Myanmar's Rakhine State is causing suffering on a catastrophic scale for the Rohingya community. Over 700,000 Rohingya have fled from Myanmar to Bangladesh since 25 August 2017. Thousands more reportedly remain stranded and in peril in Myanmar without the means to cross the border into Bangladesh. Refugees arriving in Bangladesh, mostly women and children are traumatized, and some have arrived with injuries caused by gunshots, shrapnel, fire and landmines. Humanitarian partners continue to scale up operations, but additional resources are urgently needed. The Rohingya Human Rights Initiative regularly issues press statements to news channels and newspapers to highlight the continuing human rights abuses in Myanmar and to generate support for greater action to help the Rohingya community. We also organize conferences and run campaigns to draw attention to the plight of the Rohingya and partner with human rights organizations and other institutions with the same goal.
